

Country Risk & Industry Research for Africa

Make clear-sighted business decisions and understand the opportunities and risks in markets where reliable information is hard to find and even harder to interpret.

As specialists in emerging and frontier markets, we provide deep insight, forecasts and data for more than 50 markets across Africa, allowing you to monitor developments and compare risks and opportunities quickly and efficiently.

Systematic, consistent and comparable coverage

Independent Strategic Insight

Frequent, systematic country analysis and indices allow you to understand and compare individual economies and industries. Daily analysis, special reports and webinars bring you consensus-challenging views of latest trends, keeping you ahead of the curve.

Comprehensive Data & Robust Forecasts

Our 2.7 million lines of standardised, comparable economic data and market size forecasts are frequently updated using rigorous forecasting methodologies and robust verification methods. You can be confident that you'll always be working with data you can trust.

Added Analyst Support

Contact the analyst behind the research whenever you need a deeper explanation of a key view. Our highly responsive team always deliver the best service to our customers, no matter how large or small.

Connected Thinking

Our 'Connected Thinking' approach to forecasting and analysis integrates macroeconomic variables and political risk views with our industry research. This provides you with unique and valuable insight into the external macroeconomic and political forces that could impact your operations and revenue generating potential.

Country Risk

10-year economic forecasts, country risks indices and expert analysis of the political and economic risks that could impact your growth strategies in more than 50 African markets.

Operational Risk
